UO Libraries Strategy Map: A Trusted Partner, Advancing Knowledge 2017 - 2020

University of Oregon Libraries

UO LIBRARIES is committed to providing the university with outstanding library resources, programs, and services. We are dedicated to creating welcoming, inclusive environments for all members of our diverse community.

With five locations on the Eugene campus, and branches at UO Portland and at the Oregon Institute of Marine Biology, the Libraries offers many flexible and well-equipped environments for library users' research and learning needs. For example, our new Price Science Commons and Research Library offers a cutting-edge MakerSpace facility and a Visualization Lab. A signature program in the Libraries is our collaborative instruction program. We work closely with UO faculty to teach students how to identify, evaluate, and use information resources ethically and effectively. Our Digital Scholarship Center (DSC) supports faculty members in the transformation of research and teaching, using new media and digital technologies. Through our Center for Media and Educational Technologies (CMET), we provide academic technology leadership and resources for the university's teaching and online education needs, including the Canvas learning management system, instructional technology, classroom technology, and content production capabilities.

The UO Libraries' collections contain millions of scholarly resources covering the university's disciplines and research areas. Our Special Collections and University Archives holds distinctive materials ranging from medieval codices and rare books, to literary and historical manuscripts, photographs, and architectural drawings.
