March 2-6, 2020
OER Course Redesign Sprint

Up to $750 is available for Oregon university faculty to participate in a one-week online, asynchronous OER course redesign training during Open Ed week. The goal of the training is to redesign an existing course using open materials in order to save students money.

Register by February 24, 2020 to participate at bit.ly/OERsprint2020

Monday

Getting Started with OER Webinar
March 2, 10am – 11am
Knight Library, DREAM Lab Workshop Space (122)

Are you new to open educational resources and want to learn more? Cheryl Cullier, Open Education Librarian at the University of Arizona, will cover the basics in this 1-hour webinar. Join us in the DREAM Lab, or tune in from your office!

bit.ly/OERbasics

Identifying, Adapting & Authoring OER Webinar
March 2, 1pm – 2pm
Knight Library, DREAM Lab Workshop Space (122)

Do you have questions about copyright, open licenses, fair use, and attribution as they relate to OER? Tune into this 1-hour webinar to hear presenter Meredith Jacob answer these questions and more. Meredith is the Project Director for Creative Commons USA, American University Washington College of Law.

bit.ly/authorOER

Tuesday

Open Textbook Review Workshop
March 3, 10am – 11am
Knight Library DREAM Lab Workshop Space (122)

In this workshop, faculty participants will learn more about OER, how to locate quality OERs online, and how to serve as a peer reviewer. Following the workshop, any faculty workshop attendee who submits a short peer review of an OER on the Open Textbook Library will be eligible for a $200 stipend.

RSVP now at bit.ly/OERWS2020

Wednesday

OER Course Redesign Sprint Open Lab Hours
March 4, 9am – 1pm
Knight Library, DREAM Lab Workshop Space (122)

Are you participating in the week-long OER course redesign sprint? Come to these open lab hours for dedicated time and space to work on your course redesign. Receive support with locating and incorporating open resources, and consult with an instructional designer on your course redesign.

Friday

Textbooks & Tea
March 6, 2pm – 4pm
Knight Library DREAM Lab (122)

Did you know that the O in OER doesn’t actually stand for online? Do you prefer print textbooks to online formats? Come browse the low-cost print OER textbook collection in Knight Library to learn more about available textbooks for your discipline. Snacks and refreshments provided!

bit.ly/OERWS2020

Student Whiteboard Interactive Display

Interested in how much money your students could save if you used OER and what they may spend that money on instead? Check out the interactive student whiteboards on the first floor of the Knight Library to learn more.

The University of Oregon is an equal-opportunity, affirmative-action institution committed to cultural diversity and compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act. This publication will be made available in accessible formats upon request. Accommodations for people with disabilities will be provided if requested in advance.